Replying to @ThomSeddon

@ThomSeddon @Dataforce @bilco105 nice idea. I don't think anything really exists atm, save UKNOF. Never thought enough of us existed!

What it is

- A meetup for your inner Network geek
- An opportunity to get into Networking
- A few midweek beers
  - If you don’t drink, don’t fret
- A few clueful presentations
- Regular – every 2nd Thursday

What it isn’t

- Very long: we start @ 19:00, finish @ ~21:30
- Sponsored (excluding begging & borrowing)
- A conduit for profitable activities
  e.g. sales, advertising, recruitment
- A competitive event: everyone is welcome

There is a formal, published Policy of Respect, which applies to all attendees.

It is important, so please do read it.

(Even if you don’t plan on attending!)

Your community needs YOU!

- We now have our own mailing list
  Our thanks to UKNOF for the initial boost!
- Announcements echoed to Twitter, plz RT
- Word of mouth: please do tell your friends
- Please do tell your colleagues, too
- The Call For Presentations is always open

The End.

The next events will be held on the:

2nd Thursday of May
2nd Thursday of June
2nd Thursday of July
(Ad infinitum, we hope!)

Questions are welcome, but…
… it is the last talk of the day. <cough>

This has been a slice of fried, Mancunian warmth & hospitality, served to you by Tom Hill & Thom Seddon.
